

what is going on in this country when partisan politics by
the media,
supercedes the
public trust ?
Sinclair
Broadcasting's
decision to air an anti-Kerry
documentary just days before the election sounds
another warning bell
on the dangers of media consolidation.

Since Sinclair uses
the public airwaves
free of charge, they are obligated BY LAW
to serve the public interest.

Sinclair's actions
are cheap partisan
politics, and
definatly not in the public interest.

This is a classic
example of the need to strengthen media ownership rules. The license renewal
process needs to involve undergo more
rigorous scrutiny,
so that media
conglomerates
understand that if the public trust is
betrayed, licenses
can and WILL be
yanked.

Thanks for your time.
